

The Position

EMLYON Business School invites applications for an Associate or Full Professor position in Finance or Insurance, beginning in September 2016. Priority will be given to candidates with a strong focus in one of the following fields: financial statistics, financial econometrics, asset pricing, quantitative finance, actuarial science or numerical methods.

The Candidate

Applicants should have demonstrated the ability to conduct high-level research, documented by a record of publications in highly ranked journals and a solid pipeline of ongoing projects. The successful candidate is also expected to mentor and collaborate with junior faculty members, to supervise or co-supervise PhD students, and to participate in the scientific life of the market finance team (co-organization of, and participation in, seminars, workshops and conferences).

Applicants should also have strong teaching skills at both the undergraduate and the graduate level. Most of finance classes are taught in English and the successful candidate will not have to teach in French.

EMLYON Business School provides strong individual research support, such as a budget for participating in conferences, and offers access to several major databases (Bloomberg, Reuters and Datastream among others).

Salary and compensation packages are competitive and will be commensurate with qualifications and experience. EMLYON Business School also provides support for administrative procedures, as well as assistance in finding accommodation, school registration for children, and relocation expenses.

The School

EMLYON Business School, one of the leading French Grandes Ecoles in Management, has consistently been ranked among the top European Business Schools. It holds triple accreditation (AACSB, EQUIS, and AMBA) and offers a wide range of programs including an MSc in Management, Specialized Master's degrees, MBA, PhD, as well as open and tailor-made executive programs. EMLYON has campuses in France (Lyon and Paris), China (Shanghai) and Morocco (Casablanca). Having celebrated its 140th anniversary, EMLYON Business School is a dynamic and innovative institution with a 108-strong faculty dedicated to develop excellence both in teaching and research thanks to unique and specific means (learning lab, clusters of excellence...). EMLYON's motto is 'Educating Entrepreneurs for the World'. It highlights its focus: Through lifelong learning, we enable entrepreneurial leaders to create new wealth and value and contribute to fairness and sustainability in a variety of economic and cultural contexts within the global economy. We aim to take advantage of new technologies to offer new business solutions to societal stakes. To know more, follow @EMLYON

The Environment

EMLYON is at the center of a vibrant ecosystem of large universities with excellent research teams in engineering, computer science, natural sciences, social sciences, and the humanities

(see: <http://www.onlylyon.com/en/discover-lyon/education.html>). Lyon is the second largest city in France, with a long tradition in entrepreneurship and with a strong digital industry.

Application Procedure

The application package should consist of:

- A cover letter;
- An up-to-date resume;
- The paper to be presented if invited for a job interview (preferably unpublished);
- A research and teaching statement (with teaching evaluations);
- For associate professor applications: reference letters from two referees

Application material should be uploaded online at XXX

Reference letters can be mailed to EM LYON, Sophie DRAGOLE, 23 avenue Guy de Collongue, 69130 ECULLY - France or emailed at dragole@em-lyon.com.

Candidates are strongly encouraged to apply as soon as possible, as review of applications will begin immediately, and continue until the position has been filled.

Preliminary inquiries and any questions should be addressed to Olivier Le Courtois (lecourtois@em-lyon.com) and François Le Grand (legrand@em-lyon.com).