

Tenure Track Position Assistant / Associate Professor of Finance

Paris Campus

The Finance Department of the ESSEC Business School is opening a tenure track position for an assistant or associate professor for its Paris (Cergy) campus. Interviews will be conducted at the Annual Meeting of the American Finance Association to be held on January 6-8, 2017 in Chicago.

The Department invites applications from candidates in all fields but a special attention will be devoted to candidates in corporate finance. Candidates should be expected to complete their Ph.D. at the latest in September 2017, and should exhibit potential for excellence in research.

ESSEC is a French "Grande Ecole" with campuses in the Paris metropolitan area and in Singapore. ESSEC offers graduate level training in finance and business administration and was the first AACSB accredited business school outside the United States and Canada. Courses are taught in English. More information on ESSEC can be found at www.essec.edu. The Finance Department has a total of 20 permanent faculty members in Paris and Singapore and is strongly dedicated to research. It offers courses at all levels (undergraduate, master and Ph.D.).

Interested candidates should send a cover letter, a complete vita, sample copies of their research (published or working papers) and at least two letters of recommendation by November 25, 2016 to finance@essec.edu
